NEWSLETTER OF THE SENIOR TENNIS PLAYERS CLUB, INC. SEPTEMBER 1998

Membership Drive Begins this Month

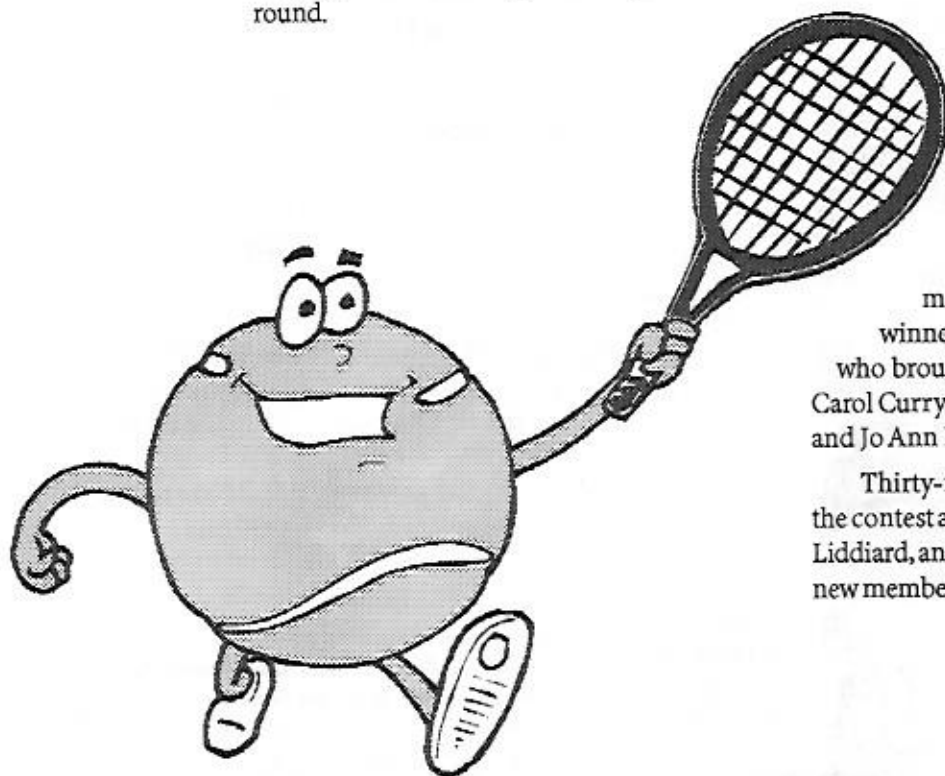

This year we are again offering the Big Bonus Deal to new members who join Senior Tennis Players Club between September 1 and December 31. For their $20 dues, they will not only get membership for those months, they get 1999, too! That's like getting up to four months for free! Last year we had 117 new members take advantage of this opportunity.

Here are just a few of the reasons why our membership is growing so fast:

- We welcome anyone age 50 and over.
- Free lessons and drills by certified professionals are available to all members.
- Playing of doubles is organized all year round.

- Enjoy exciting parties, social events, trips, and tennis camps.
- Monthly newsletter keeps members informed.
- Tennis available at all levels, beginners to 4.5.
- Low annual membership fee of $20 per person.

Have your friends call Grayce Aberle, 938-9097 or Ron Liddiard, 829-7530 for more information and a membership application.

$100 Winner!

Myrna Rian is the winner of the membership contest! Of the seven people who each brought in two new members in June-July, she was the lucky winner of the drawing for $100. The other six who brought in new members are Jack Wallinga, Carol Curry, Mary Carver, Paul Weinreis, Carol Hall, and Jo Ann Rolling.

Thirty-five tennis players joined as a result of the contest and the committee (Bob Tischbein, Ron Liddiard, and Grayce Aberle) thanks all who referred new members.

Club Notes

Grandparent-Grandchild Round Robin

By Bob Eidem, Event Coordinator—The Fourth Annual Grandparents-Grandchild Round Robin Tournament was held July 18 at the Valley View Courts in Bloomington. Having been rained out last year, this year's event was greeted by sunny skies and a gentle breeze. (In case of rain, indoor courts at Nicollet Tennis Center had been reserved.)

The tournament attracted the allowable maximum of 48 players, ranging in age from Dwight Baumgardner's grandson, John, age 10, to Phil Johnson, a grandfather of 80 plus years. Among the players were 20 grandfathers, 4 grandmothers, 20 grandsons, and 4 granddaughters. The participants were divided into two groups determined by the ages of the grandchildren.

The youngest group was composed of grandchildren up through 16 years of age. The older group had grandchildren from 17 to 35. Teams in each group who won their first match entered the championship bracket. The losers comprised the consolation bracket. Gift certificates were awarded to the winners in each bracket.

In the younger category, the champions were Joell Anderson and his grandson Christopher Rudie. The consolation prize went to John Farnham and his grandson, Jon Reed.

In the older category, the champions were Lee Warner and his grandson, Thom Haines. The consolation winner was Arnold Ryden and his grandson, Craig Branton.

Overall, it was felt the tournament was very successful and many favorable comments were received. Special thanks to my able assistant, Firmin Alexander, for help in running the tournament; to my wife, Marlene, for her support and tolerance, and to the City of Bloomington for providing us with great facilities at no expense to STPC.

Message from the President

By Bob Tischbein—On August 20 I was elected president of the Senior Tennis Players Club. For those of you who don't know me, let me write a few facts about myself.

I have played tennis for many years starting in Cincinnati, Ohio and continuing when Jane and I moved to Minnesota in 1970. I joined STPC about ten years ago, served as Director of Public Relations for the Board, worked for three years on the Dow Tournament, have been a captain for several groups, served as chairman of the Captains' Dinner, and often shared ideas with Jim Tornoe on the future of STPC.

Now as president, I would like to further those ideas:

Most of all, enjoy your game!

Playing Nice: Encouraging Civility on the Court

The Tie Break Game

The team that first wins seven points shall win the game provided it leads by a margin of two points. If the score reaches six points all, the game shall be extended until this margin has been achieved. The player whose turn it is to serve shall be the server for the first point. Their opponent shall be the server for the second and third points and thereafter each player serves alternately for two consecutive points until the winner of the game and set has been decided.

From the first point, each service shall be delivered alternately from the right and left court, beginning with the right court. If service from a wrong half of the court occurs and is undetected, all playing resulting from such wrong service or services shall stand, but the inaccuracy of station shall be corrected immediately when discovered.

Players shall change ends after every six points and at the conclusion of the tie break game.

Captain's Profile

By Carol Hall—Senior Tennis Camp without Chuck Supplee would be like Heaven without Saint Peter!

Chuck's been welcoming campers at the "pearly gates" of their dormitory ever since he got the first tennis camp up and running some twelve years ago. Chuck eventually took over the popular summer event from STPC, and now manages it on his own.

"Every year a lot of people come to the University campus at River Falls, Wisconsin, where we hold the camp and they usually improve their game," Chuck said. "And the price is right, more reasonable than other tennis camps, so more people can afford it."

Chuck
Supplee

Senior Tennis Camp is only one of Chuck's significant contributions to STPC. Easily a candidate for the Jack Dow trophy, his past credits include Board of Directors service, originating the first annual meeting, recruiting some 200 new members, and procuring the Decathlon and Northland facilities. Very early on, Chuck even presided over a separate Bloomington chapter of STPC. Today he is Decathlon facility coordinator and captains there winters, and at Dred Scott, summers.

Today, Chuck jokes, he is also "homeless, worthless, and jobless." Actually, he's between homes. His new Bloomington co-op condominium should be completed in three months. Meanwhile, Chuck and wife Shirley can be reached at 947-9451.

"Worthless," never! Chuck is unfailingly humble and gracious, qualities evincing his deep Christian faith. During the 1960s and 1970s, Chuck served as an unpaid volunteer for Lay Witness Mission, a national evangelism organization. He gave his weekends over to traveling to neighboring states to preach evangelism.

"Jobless," only during vacation from his security position at Seagate Warehouse in Edina. Although 79, Chuck continues to work even after retiring in 1984 from a career as a printer.

"Printing was the seventh biggest industry in Minnesota fifty years ago," Chuck said. "Then Minneapolis had three newspapers and a shopping guide." Chuck worked for Lund Press, the Minneapolis Star and Augsburg Publishing. He was trained at Dunwoody Institute as a linotype operator.

To know Chuck is to discover his ancestry. He's traced it back to pre-Revolutionary War times. The French Supplees settled in Pennsylvania, his mother's English people, North Carolina. It seems that an early Supplee was the first sheriff in Pennsylvania. And according to Chuck, odd family coincidences abound. His son Joe, for example, named his children Nathan and Rebecca, without knowing that these were common family names 125 years ago.

Chuck and seven siblings were born in Mediapolis, Iowa. Their paint salesman father moved the family from Mediapolis to Minneapolis, where Chuck graduated from Washburn High School.

He served with the Army Quartermasters Corps in Hawaii during World War II.

Chuck is very close to Shirley and his family. "We've been married over fifty years and she's only 49," he joked. They are presently living with daughter Eileen, who "invited us." Son Paul is "the number one pastry chef in the US," according to Chuck. Son Joe lives on thirty-six country acres near River Falls, Wisconsin. There are six grandchildren and one great grandchild, who Chuck says "came with a bunch of hair!"

Chuck's tennis camp staff surprised him at the July session with the gift of a sports watch. "I was thrilled, I relished getting it," Chuck said.

Already preparing for 1999, Chuck plans to add an extra session for 3.0 and 3.5 players only. And anyone signing up early will pay less for the camp.

Ask Chuck why he ever got involved in the considerable task of running the Senior Tennis Camp and he'll tell you he did it to improve his own game.

And indeed he did. So well did Chuck play at the recent Duluth Northland Senior Games, he won big, and is headed for Orlando, Florida in 1999 for the Senior Olympics Nations, just as he did to Syracuse in 1991.

Congratulations and best wishes, Chuck. Be assured we look forward to your warm handshake next July at the gates of Crabtree Hall!
