180 + Compete in Dow Tournament

The Third Annual Jack Dow Tennis Tournament, held September 8-12, was a real success according to tournament director Ernie Greene. He said he had never seen so many hard-fought and very close matches. The sportsmanship exhibited by almost all of the entries was exceptional.

In women's doubles, the speed with which the ball was being hit was impressive; in men's doubles, you could watch some very good ball handling, and in general, there was a lot of successful lobbing. All in all, everyone played hard and well, and most importantly, had fun.

Tournament committee chair Matt Little reported, "This tournament has evolved into a festive event of the fall season. Like Oktoberfests, back-to-school celebrations, and other events associated with the change in season, the Jack Dow Tournament lends that kind of atmosphere to us seniors who play tennis. In addition to the spirited and competitive tennis playing of nearly 200 members of the STPC, the fellowship and joviality among those participating made it more than just another tennis tournament. It was truly amazing that seniors would commute from Rochester and Stillwater to be involved."

Mel Baken, well known for his winning records at statewide tennis tournaments, said, "In this third year of the Dow Tournament, the number of applicants increased from 120 in 1997 to over 180 this year. The competition consisted of three divisions—women's, men's, and mixed doubles. Categories were based on NTRP ratings from 2.0 to 4.0 and above, making a total of 15 different events. The tournament went off smoothly, with most matches played on time. There was an occasional no-show or late cancellation (mostly unavoidable), and there were a few mismatches related to category misplacement of some teams, but in general it was a successful tournament."

Plans for next year could include a more precise plan of entry in the proper categories and a request that this year's winners move up a category. Other considerations include the possibility of a feed-in championship or double elimination format to assure that all participants will play at least two matches in their category.

Percy Hughes, assistant director of the tournament, felt the tournament increased in professionalism with the use of three trained referees—Ron Liddiard, Ed Munson, and Pete Meyerhoff.

Special thanks go to John and Mar Goulett, who gave new energy to the workers each day with treats; to Lois Hoffman and Len Aberle, who assisted each day with tournament operations; to Ronnae Wagner and Winnie Lund, who called applicants ahead of time to inform them of their starting times; and to Roger Boyer, a bow for his many wise words of advice as the tournament progressed.

Without the financial support from Allina Medical Center for Healthy Aging, represented by Joanne Willette, and the Dow Family, we would not have been able to add the many essential components to make this an excellent tournament.

Over 50 people attended the closing ceremony presided over by Matt Little. Attractive trophies were distributed with the help of Percy Hughes, Irma Brink, Joanne Willette, and Ron Liddiard. David Brink was the official photographer.

Our newly-elected president, Bob Tischbein, summarized the tournament this way: "To me, the real highlight of the Dow Tournament was the response from the members of STPC—the largest to any event. Also, I would personally like to commend the many hardworking members of the tennis tournament committee, the players, the sponsors, and Midwest Racquet Club, for producing a senior grand slam tennis event in 1998."

Sahr Soars, Rincon Rockets to Victory in Team Tennis Playoffs

Deni Sahr and Roy Rincon are the official 1998 Stecklein Team Tennis champions.

Sahr's (3.0 and above) team triumphed over top-ranked Betty Moorhead's team, 5-3, capturing the Level A title in the August 18 playoffs. In an earlier playoff match, Sahr defeated Nancy Lauring, 5-3. The two were tied for second place. Another tie occurred for third place between Al Nuhn and Nancy Lauring. Nuhn won the tiebreaker 8-7.

For the second year in a row, Roy Rincon took Level B (2.0-3.0) honors. Rincon's team beat out the Bernice Hanson-Bob Hinz team, 5-3, in playoff games.

Two celebratory picnics would up the day and the season. Eastenders gathered in Shoreview at Island Lake Park for lunch, croquet and — despite gusty winds — bridge. Westerners picnicked on the shores of Lake Minnetonka at The Depot.

Unlike last year, no games were rained out. The teams enjoyed a full 10-week season, minus the hassle of rescheduling. Travel this year also was made easier as away courts were located nearer home courts, shortening long drives.

Coordinator John Connelly said things went well, with one exception. Some players and subs who committed to participate backed out on short notice, leaving their captain and team in a bind. Also, there were only three Level B teams. Consequently one team was a "bye" each week. Level B also was short on subs.

Connelly hopes more teams and subs will materialize for the 1999 season. Overall, though, he is well pleased.

"I'd like to thank all the captains and players who participated," Connelly said. "I especially thank Jack Wallin and Chuck Emme for working so hard to secure courts, Ronnae Wagner for all the subs she got, Deni Sahr and Carol Curry for extra help in running the program. And of course John Stecklein for developing schedules and leadership assistance."

USTA Women's Summer 2.5 Senior League

The senior USTA 2.5 women's summer league has finished their 10-match season. The winning team was captained by Polly Maki and Ann Thompson. The runner-ups were captained by Doris Doll and Jenny Caldwell. The season only suffered one rainout and one "too hot to play" day, matches which were both made up. The final scores were 5 splits—5 wins for Maki/Thompson and 5 losses for Doll/Caldwell. Maki/Thompson proceeded to the area sectionals the weekend of August 21 at Augsburg Park in Richfield. Both teams celebrated a gratifying season of tennis playing with a dinner party at Doolittle's Air Café.—Shirley Pratt, Coordinator

Hit 'N Giggle League Wraps up Summer Play

Hit 'N Giggle League's four teams played 11 matches this summer. This is a women's league that has been playing for 9 years. They are a very compatible, competitive, and fun-loving group of tennis players. The league finished the season with an old-fashioned summer potluck picnic and tennis playing mixer for all players at Brookview Park in Golden Valley on August 26.

The standings are as follows:

| Team | Sets Won | Points | Matches Won |
|-------------|----------|--------|-------------|
| Green Team: | 52 | 25 | 11 |
| Pink Team: | 38 | 18 | 8 |
| Yellow Team | 29 | 12 | 3 |
| White Team | 23 | 10 | 1 |

A special thank you to the captains who are Joyce Olsen, Marcia Hinitz, Rose Sanders, and Nan Holland, and the co-captains, Joyce Anderson, Vi Schaber, Jenny Caldwell, and Dori Shadinger from all their players.—Shirley Pratt, Coordinator

Captains' Corner

This issue contains the latest corrections to the indoor court schedules. It will be updated in the January newsletter if there have been changes in captains or times. Please notify your facility coordinator so they can relate the information to Jack Wallin to make the corrections.

Again, I must repeat some of the obligations for the indoor season:

1. If you are a regular it is your responsibility to get a sub or notify your captain if you can't play
2. If as a substitute you agree to play, then the above rule applies to you.
3. Arrive at the court at least 5 minutes before the scheduled start time.

Hold Off Donating Tennis Balls

Percy Hughes asks that everyone who has been so generously donating used tennis balls to hold off for the winter. He hasn't got the storage space for them while we're playing indoors. But do remember to donate again next year. Thank you!

Players Wanted

Men Needed as Decathlon Subs

Decathlon needs male subs Fridays from 9-11 a.m. for mixed doubles 3.0-3.5. Please call Mary Wenz at 457-5347 if you are interested.

New Wooddale League Needs Players

Players officially rated 3.0 only (not self rated) are needed to play mixed doubles Tuesdays, 2-4 p.m. at Wooddale. Call captain Earl Hall at 731-5127 if interested in being a regular or sub.

New Deadline for Newsletter!

In order to get the newsletter to you in a more timely fashion, we've decided to change the deadline for submissions to be published.

The old deadline was the 20th of the month for publication in the next month's issue. From now on, that date will be the 10th of the month. Please bear this in mind if you want to send in an article.

And remember, if you have email, you can send your article in that way! Simply send an email to Nancy Kaminski at nancykam@pioneerplanet.infi.net.

Renewal Season Approaches

Members of STPC will be receiving a renewal invoice in November. Renewal is easy—simply confirm your membership information (and remember, we need to know what your area code will be for the next year!), write a check payable to STPC for $20, and mail both the check and the invoice to Nancy Kaminski, keeper of the membership database.

So look for that invoice in the mail, and send your dues in promptly! Thanks in advance.

Line Calls

Under the code of tennis, you are to make the best call possible, including the close ones that should be called as a point for your opponent. If one partner sees it in and the other sees it out, the correct call is in because the difference in calls has created a doubt. Your opponents have the right to ask if you are sure of your call. Your opponents are entitled to quick calls. Never discuss your calls as you do not have an instant replay camera available. Tennis is a great game, especially when we all play with niceness.

Captains' Profiles

By Carol Hall

*Chuck's a man who's very quiet
When speaking his mind, you'd better buy it
His game of tennis is a varied one
His cross-court shots are usually won
He covers the court so very well
To win against him, you must excel
He's a thoughtful person among his friends Seldom a comment which offends.*

This Ode to Chuck Emme leaves no doubt he's a heckuva tennis player. Apropos, since it's written by tennis buddy and versesmith, Bill West.

Chuck Emme

A hint of "Minnesota Nice" also slips into Bill's rhyme, with good reason. Chuck's a true native. He was born on a farm near the tiny community of Rockford in south central Minnesota. At age 6, his father gave up farming to become a game warden, relocating Chuck, his mother, and older brother to Warroad, near Lake of the Woods and the Canadian border. During Chuck's high school years they moved to Fairmont, which nearly touches Iowa.

Today a Cities person, he'd gladly move back to his roots. "I loved growing up in small towns," said Chuck, who is 67. "Where else could you at age nine go trap muskrats or fish or hunt by yourself, or take off on your bicycle and be out of town in five minutes?"

So enthralled was Chuck with the great outdoors, he considered following in his father's footsteps and becoming a game warden. Instead he chose a more lucrative career in chemical engineering. Three college majors, math, chemistry, and education taken at Mankato State College prepared Chuck, who graduated in 1952.

Following a stint with the Army, he was hired by Minneapolis Honeywell. Chuck spent the better part of his career at the New Brighton Ordnance Division, involved in developing ammonia batteries for fuses. He worked first in the industrial and avionics divisions.

Retiring in 1990, Chuck has much to keep him busy. Carol, the former Honeywell secretary he married 40 years ago, and their three sons and daughter take top priority. As for one-year-old grandchild, Thomas James, "He's terrific!" says Chuck, beaming. "We can spoil him rotten and don't have to worry about the consequences!"

Reserved, yet pleasantly friendly in the best Minnesota tradition, Chuck hunts ducks and deer and fishes for walleye and northerns near Elk River with his sons. Volunteering for his community, he's active in the Columbia Heights Boosters. A league bowler, having bowled since a high school sophomore, his present average is 180. Golf also figures into the life of this man with the close crew cut and mischievous grin.

And then of course there's tennis. Al Uhl and other STPCers on the Honeywell commercial league introduced Chuck, who joined up early in retirement. He's taken on many important roles, including serving on the STPC board of directors. But tennis first came into Chuck's life in high school.

"We lived near the school courts in Fairmont," Chuck said. "I picked up the game on my own, and lettered in tennis and track in high school." Chuck went on to letter in tennis at Mankato State and captained the team. In his sophomore and junior years, 1950 and 1951, they won the Minnesota Wisconsin Bi-State Conference College championship.

And Chuck still hasn't lost his edge. In August, his Stecklein Team Tennis team (captained by Deni Sahr) won the A-Level championship. Chuck also took runner-up honors in the men's 3.5 doubles in the September Jack Dow Tournament, an event he won in 1996.

Chuck's keen competitive spirit is as evident in the six-court "mostly men" league he co-captains winters at Nicollet. It also came through at board meetings. There, through debate, Chuck vigorously defended his point of view—his quiet image temporarily abandoned. While on the board, Chuck had the considerable responsibility of Minneapolis area facilities coordinator. He resigned in August.

*Chuck never boasts of what he's done
And assumes some tasks that others shun
Senior Tennis has grown with Chuck Filling positions—thus our good luck.*

This is the greatest discovery in the history of immunology.
Darryl See, M.D.

What will make major waves in the world of science when the research becomes known?

The fact that glyconutritionals are the only known compound (including pharmaceutical drugs) that effectively treat diseases with a hyperactive immune system as well as illnesses that have decreased immune systems. This is a true miracle, and recent experiments in the lab have shown how this occurs on a cellular level!

Objectives

Dr. See will present an overview of the immune system. In this session he will focus on the role the immune system in our body, diseases that have decreased immune function, diseases with hyperactive immune systems and how glyconutritionals treat immune based diseases.

... during this time much of his work has been centered around the function of a cell in the immune system called the Natural Killer Cell.

• Recently, he published an article in the Scandinavian Journal of Immunology which describes the importance of the Natural Killer Cell in protecting the body from viral infections, cancers and in proper balance of immune system function.

• Trained at the NIH in molecular biology.

• Principal Investigator for the NIH in dozens of clinical trials.

• Currently working on a new HIV vaccine.

• He has a busy practice of over 1,000 patients with chronic immune disorders.

• He is regarded by many to be one of the top experts in treating chronic fatigue/fibromyalgia in the nation.

• He has spent the past five years screening over 450 different natural products and medications in the laboratory for safety and immunological enhancement.

• His philosophy in the treatment of chronic immunologic or viral diseases is to stimulate or balance the immune system.
